

JASON A. DAMSKER, MD
Oncology (Medical/Hematology)
Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates

Jason Damsker, MD, completed his Bachelor of Arts degree at Cornell University. After his undergraduate degree, he completed his medical degree at Hahnemann University. He completed a residency at Temple University Hospital and a fellowship in Hematology/Medical Oncology at Fox Chase Cancer Center. He is board certified in Internal Medicine and Medical Oncology/Hematology.

Dr. Damsker has published numerous journal articles and has conducted many research studies, including topics on lung cancer and colorectal cancer.

His areas of interest/expertise: Head and neck cancer, breast cancer, lung cancer, colorectal cancer.

Personal Interests: Coaches baseball and soccer and plays basketball competitively.

Dr. Damsker has been on the medical staff at Abington Hospital since 2003 and currently practices Medical Oncology/Hematology in Horsham and Meadowbrook.

Background

Cornell University
Ithaca, NY
(Bachelor of Arts, 1989-1993)

Hahnemann University School of Medicine
Philadelphia, PA
(MD, 1993-1997)

Temple University Hospital
Philadelphia, PA
(Residency, Internal Medicine, 1997-2000)

Fox Chase Cancer Center
Philadelphia, PA
(Fellowship, Hematology/Medical Oncology, 2000-2003)

Dr. Damsker is currently a member of the American Medical Association, Pennsylvania Medical Society, American College of Physicians, American Society of Hematology and a member of the American Society of Clinical Oncology.

Contact Information

Dr. Damsker can be reached at:

Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates
201 Gibraltar Rd, Suite 120
Horsham, Pennsylvania 19044

Office: 215-706-2034
Fax: 215-706-4176

Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates
1648 Huntingdon Pk, Ste. 1000
Meadowbrook, Pennsylvania 19046

Office: 215-947-5460
Fax: 215-947-1378