

RACHEL L. RAMIREZ, MD, FACP
Internal Medicine
Abington Adult Medical Associates
Abington Health Physicians

Rachel Ramirez, MD completed her Bachelor of Sciences in Biology with a minor in Women's Studies at Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, New York. Dr. Ramirez completed her medical degree at Emory University School of Medicine in Atlanta, Georgia. After her medical degree, she completed her internship and residency training in internal medicine at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, New York. Dr. Ramirez is board certified in Internal Medicine.

Dr. Ramirez' approach to patient care is based on the view of the patient as a person, whole and unique. She embraces and actively seeks to improve patient safety and patient-centered care. As an internal medicine specialist, she is comfortable caring for patients with complicated medical problems and coordinating care for them. Dr. Ramirez also actively participates in Abington's Bloodless Medicine & Surgery program and cares for many of the patients who are part of it.

Prior to joining Abington, Dr. Ramirez spent four years working with Indian Health Service on the Winnebago Reservation in northeastern Nebraska. It was during that time that she gained experience treating diabetes, hypertension, and other internal medicine specific disorders. Dr. Ramirez feels that the time spent in the rural medicine setting enabled her to truly appreciate the relationship between patients and physicians. This led her to take a special interest in the communication between physicians and patients, and to help teach this to medical students and residents.

Dr. Ramirez has been on the medical staff at Abington Memorial Hospital since 2009. She serves as an associate program director for the internal medicine residency program and currently practices Internal Medicine in Abington.

Dr. Ramirez is a proud member of Abington Health Physicians, a network of over 200 primary care and specialty physicians.

Background

Rochester Institute of Technology
Rochester, NY
(BS, Biology, Minor in Women's Studies 1994-1998)

Emory University School of Medicine
Atlanta, GA
(MD, 1998-2002)

University of Rochester- Strong Memorial Hospital
Rochester, NY
(Internship, Internal Medicine, 2002-2003)
(Residency, Internal Medicine, 2003-2005)

Dr. Ramirez has given many presentations on Internal Medicine for the residency program and the surrounding community. Dr. Ramirez is a fellow and active member of American College of Physicians (FACP). She is an adjunct clinical professor at Drexel University College of Medicine, where she teaches a first year medical student course entitled "Physician & Patient" which focuses on that relationship.

Contact Information

Dr. Ramirez can be reached at:

Abington Adult Medical Associates
Levy Medical Plaza
1235 Old York Rd., Ste. 214
Abington, PA 19001

Office: 215-481-4811
Fax: 215-576-1787

jeffersonhealth.org/AbingtonAAMA