

PETER V. PICKENS, MD
Oncology (Medical/Hematology)
Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates

Peter Pickens, MD, completed his Bachelor of Science in Biology at Brown University. After his undergraduate degree, he completed his medical degree at Mount Sinai School of Medicine. He completed an internship, residency, and fellowship at McGaw Medical School of Northwestern University. In addition, he completed a fellowship in Hematology/Oncology at Temple University Hospital. He is board certified in Internal Medicine and Medical Oncology/Hematology.

Dr. Pickens has been voted Top Doctor in Philadelphia Magazine for 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, and 2015.

Dr. Pickens has published numerous journal articles on early detection of cancer, renal cell carcinoma, and leukemia.

He is the principal investigator for multiple clinical trials that include breast cancer, colon cancer, lymphoma, lung cancer, Hodgkin's, malignant melanoma, acute leukemia. He received 2 Regional Teaching awards from Temple University School of Medicine in 2005 and 2010, the Blockley - Osler Award for Outstanding Teaching. Dr. Pickens was a nominated for outstanding medical resident in the city of Chicago award given by the Illinois Society of Internal Medicine when a senior resident at Northwestern University.

His areas of interest and expertise are Classical hematology, diagnostic hematology, thrombosis and hemostasis, leukemia and lymphoma, multiple myeloma, malignant melanoma.

Personal Interests: Windmill engineering hobbyist, Gold metal achiever for the Montgomery County Senior Games (track and field games) - in the 100, 200 and 400 meters events.

Dr. Pickens has been on the medical staff at Abington Hospital since 1983 and currently practices Medical Oncology/Hematology in Horsham and Meadowbrook.

Background
Brown University
Providence, RI
(Bachelor of Science, Biology, 1970-1974)

Mount Sinai School of Medicine
New York, NY
(MD, 1974-1982)

McGaw Medical School of Northwestern University
Chicago, IL
(Internship, Internal Medicine, 1978-1981)
(Residency, Internal Medicine, 1979-1981)
(Fellowship, Leukemia & Developmental Therapeutics, 1980-1981)

Temple University Hospital
Philadelphia, PA
(Fellowship, Hematology/Oncology, 1981-1983)

Dr. Pickens is currently a member of the Eastern Cooperative Oncology Group, National Surgical Adjuvant Breast Project, Gynecologic Oncology Group, and is a member of the University of Pennsylvania Clinical Trial Group.

Contact Information
Dr. Pickens can be reached at:

Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates
201 Gibraltar Rd, Ste 120
Horsham, Pennsylvania 19044

Office: 215-706-2034
Fax: 215-706-4176

Abington Hematology/Oncology Associates
1648 Huntingdon Pk, Ste. 1000
Meadowbrook, Pennsylvania 19046

Office: 215-947-5460
Fax: 215-947-1378

<http://www.cancerpa.net/>